Romanian-born Virgil Lupu began his musical training at age five and started playing the violin at age seven. Mr. Lupu has appeared in numerous recitals throughout Transylvania and has toured in Romania, Germany, France, Austria, Cyprus, and the United States with different ensembles. After Graduating from the "Sigismund Toduta" Music High School in 2001, Mr. Lupu came to the United States to study violin with Prof. Vasile Beluska at Bowling Green State University where he graduated with a bachelor's degree in Violin Performance in 2004. He has performed in numerous master classes for Victor Danchenko, Almita Vamos, Stephen Rose, David Halen, Marilyn McDonald, Isabel Trautwein, Aneta Vogel, Stefan Milenkovich, William Pu, Andrej Grabiec, among others. Mr. Lupu is an active orchestra player and chamber Musician. He frequently performs with the Lima Symphony, Adrian Symphony, Great Lakes Symphony, and the Toledo Symphony. He enjoys spending his summers at different summer festivals such as the National Orchestral Institute, Texas Music Festival and the Chautauqua Music Festival. Besides teaching at the Toledo School for the Arts, Mr. Lupu also maintains a private violin studio in the Bowling Green area.
